

President's Message

It has been an exciting time for Missouri Federation of Republican Women since January 1st. We held our Show-Me Conference and Board Meeting in Columbia on January 20th with a great attendance. Our speakers provided us with thought provoking information that we needed to be know.

General Counsel Elizabeth L. Ziegler and Joe Owens of the MO Ethics Commission answered many questions and provided printed material, website information and phone numbers for additional help.

Columbia, MO Vice Narcotics Sergeant Jeffry Rukstad spoke of his experiences with the drug problems facing our society.

Director, Office of Governmental Policy and Legislation Daniel Bogle gave us clarification of the new MO drug bill.

We announced a new feature is coming to our MoFRW.org website. Each month different members will be highlighted and I encourage all of you to be ready when Angie Stiffler our PR Chairs calls and says "We would like to feature You".

We quickly moved on to the Lincoln Days in Kansas City and a new opportunity for the MoFRW to shine. We hosted MoFRW's first "Women in Leadership" panel. The panel consisted of: Representative Hannah Kelly, Representative Holly Rehder, National Committeewoman Susie Eckelkamp, Immediate Past President of the NFRW Carrie Almond and Vice Chair of the MO Republican Party Kay Hoflander. It was a standing room only crowd and these ladies "Rocked the Crowd". The response has been unbelievably positive.

Remember to go to the website for up-to-date forms and calendar events. Please email photos, meeting information and dates to Angie Stiffler Email: anstiffler@yahoo.com
